Description:

Slide transparency. Fog at the top of the photograph blurs the hilltops in the distance and gives a hazy appearance to the nearly bare trees. Proceeding down, there are several fields and buildings hidden among the trees. At the left and center, there are two cement stave silos and a building, likely a barn, while at the right, there is a house. Coming towards the photographer, trees, bushes, and grass cover the rising hillside, ending by a short stone wall and a barbed-wire fence.

Physical dimensions:
