Description:

Photographic negative. Per image envelope: 1960s Maple Syrup. Image is of the right side of a tank inside a frame with a roof over top of it. It is on wooden beams, off the ground. It is located in a barren landscape of dirt, that looks freshly moved. In the background is a forest. A line or tube comes down the hill behind the tank towards the bank of the tank. Two large pipes are also coming out from under the tank on the right.

Perhaps this is a maple sap holding tank?
